

#MYSOLUTION

FOR CLEAN RIVERS & CITIES

Since the pollution of the oceans begins on land, we would like to start fighting it in our city.

We notice that the interest to participate in the city development has grown in recent years.

That is why the initiative ALLES IM FLUSS was born. By taking action and creating awareness we want to educate citizens, young and old alike, about this problem and empower them to become active themselves.

Actions such as cleanups on the river not only raise awareness among participating citizens, but also make pollution visible to passing ones.

  More and more water bodies are in danger of becoming polluted. This must change in order to protect our environment!

  In Berlin, the ALLES IM FLUSS initiative is working to achieve this. It actively campaigns for the protection and cleanliness of Berlin's waters and riverbanks - and thanks to cleanups and other events, everyone can get involved.
